

Our Town

By Peggy Blanchard
Orchids, halos and a big gold star for Mrs. O. A. Brooks this week. She's looking for a tenant WITH CHILDREN for her five-room home! She found it so difficult to locate a place where her own six-year-old was welcome, she determined to rent only to folks with youngsters for which all parents will rise and call her blessed. She and her boy are booked for passage from Seattle to Japan on August 30, to join Mr. Brooks at Yokohama, where he is in charge of Graves Registration for the Armed Forces in the Pacific area.

Harassed by gloomy news from abroad and nervous over the domestic economy, Democrats and Republicans both impress this reader as somewhat lacking in that old torch-light parade spirit as the November elections draw near.

Not so the Independent Progressive Party. They keep pressing news releases into our mail box and this morning, sent word by special delivery that they are perfectly furious about the reports of the 22 million dollar sale of the Rosenberg and Co. dried fruit holdings. They have a neat point when they score speculations in the food industry—the trouble is, a line has got to be drawn somewhere, but everyone wants it drawn for the next fellow, not himself. I want lower food costs and higher wages myself, but right at the moment I don't see how that's going to come about.

Mrs. Nellie Rutherford is moving from her 14-room house with full basement into a four-room home in Campbell. Her problem is obvious: What's to become of all those lovely bric-a-brac, mementos and cherished furnishings that can't be accommodated in the new household.

Flighin' Words: Livestockmen reported this week through a press release credited to their district chairman that the reason meat prices are so high is that "too many butchers are not handling enough volume to pay their high (Continued on page 6)

Water Co. Acquires Payne Ave. Line

Campbell Water Company Monday bought for $1 from the Board of Supervisors an old abandoned county water pipeline on Payne avenue at Campbell to increase its domestic water service.

It is the second section of the line, originally used by the county for road sprinkling purposes, the water company has acquired. In May, 1947, the water company acquired a first section, extending on Payne avenue from Winchester road to Phelps avenue. The new purchase extends on to San Tomas road.

Rerouting of Highway Planned To Clear Way for Lexington Dam

Two miles of the Los Gatos-Santa Cruz highway are to be rerouted in connection with the construction of the $2,500,000 Lexington Dam on Los Gatos Creek by the Santa Clara Valley Conservation District, it was announced by Atty. Herbert C. Jones, water conservation district counsel.

Actual work on the rerouting, which will require about a year, is not expected to begin until early next year according to Jones, though the engineers are outlining plans for the highway rerouting right now.

Construction of the dam was approved last week by State Engineer Edward Hyatt. Work will not begin on the dam until after the highway rerouting is completed. Construction of the dam is also expected to take about a year, which would mean operation would not be possible until approximately the end of 1950, said Jones.

Approval of the dam came after several months of intensive exploration by a state geologist and two prominent consulting geologists. They investigated safety factors, soil types, foundation pro-

This Is One Fish That Didn't Get Away

Deep-sea fishing on a Stagnaro boat off the cement works north of Santa Cruz Tuesday, two local men came home with their share of the finny ones.

Karl Bohnett and Ed Hubert were the anglers. Bohnett landed the prize of the day, a 25½ pound Ling Cod. He snagged the big one at the end of 150 feet of line on a whole sardine. The fish measured exactly 45 inches in length. Both men caught about 20 fish apiece of average size. Bohnett's catch netted him the boat's jack-pot of $12.50 for the largest fish of the day.

Maderis vs. Hubert Featured at Local Rotary Meeting

The program of the Campbell Rotary Club was on the lighter side at their Monday noon luncheon this week. Following a brief business session, members and guests were treated to the preliminary of a mock trial.

Rotary members are required to wear a large badge signifying their name and the nature of their business. One of the members, Bill Maderis, was not able to locate his badge in its customary place of safe-keeping for two successive weeks. Maderis claimed the badge must have been pilfered by a brother Rotarian with the idea of subjecting him to the liability of a fine. He named Ed Hubert as the culprit. Hubert denied the charge and now the case has grown to such proportions that with charges and counter-charges flying hither and yon it has been (Continued on page 8)

First Prunes in Dryer Hail Season But Fail To Cheer Local Growers Association

The drying tunnels of the Sunsweet Prune and Apricot Growers Association are this week receiving their baptism of fan-blown heated air. First loads of French and Sugar prunes were processed early this week in the Campbell plant, said to be the largest dryer in the world. The loads came in from the ranches of E. T. Neilsen of Prospect road and E. Selvi of Sunnyvale. A steady stream of loaded trucks is expected from the end of this week on. Valley prunes are fast ripening and have started falling in most orchards. Saratoga and Los Gatos sections are expected to lag slightly behind other orchard areas where intensive irrigation was done in the dry spell of early summer.

The Campbell dryer is set to handle approximately 15,000 tons of prunes daily this year. Last year's capacity was about 13,000 tons daily. Trees are heavy with a most prolific crop this year, and growers expect the yield to out-number in tonnage any previous year.

Prices to the growers have not been established and it is feared in some quarters that with the increased cost of this year's production (Continued on page 8)

Additional Stock Placed On Sale; Dividend Declared

James K. Lohead, president, announced that the board of directors of American Trust Company, at its regular monthly meeting held on August 12, authorized the sale of approximately 95,000 additional shares of American Trust Company common stock.

Subject to the execution of a satisfactory underwriting agreement, this stock will first be offered for subscription to common stockholders of record August 27, 1948, at $40 per share, at the rate of one new share for each four shares presently held. It is contemplated that transferable subscription warrants, exercisable at any time on or before 30 days from the date of mailing, will be mailed to such common stockholders on or about August 28, 1948.

A quarterly dividend of fifty cents a share was declared on the common stock, payable September 15, 1948, to stockholders of record August 27, 1948.

Ballard 1500 For Police Calls

Radio relay of telephone calls for police aid was arranged last week by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Karl Bohnett.

Calls to BAL 1500 will be broadcast to the local Police car, which has been assigned No. 35 on the radio hook from Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle's office.

Street Scuffle Ends In County Jail For Participants

An altercation involving fist-cuffs, knives and the threatened use of a gun occurred on the main street of Campbell Wednesday night about nine o'clock. Participants were Wiley Pierce and Bob Morris, now booked at the County jail on charges of disturbing the peace.

Trouble started when the two met at a local pool room. Ill feelings had existed for some time over money matters. After a scuffle the pair were separated by Special Officer John Clemens. A call was put in to the Sheriff's office for help, and on the arrival of two deputies they were lodged in jail. Both men were slightly cut up, but were on amicable terms when taken into custody. No gun was found but witnesses said that Pierce threatened Morris with such a weapon.

Arrests were made by Pete Francini and James Anson of Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle's office.

Ben Carvalho and Pet Pony Signed By Autry Show

Doll That Survived Donner Tragedy Joins State Centennial Exhibition

A tiny doll that survived one of the most tragic episodes in the great emigration westward a century ago, will go on tour throughout the state in the Historical Caravan now being assembled by the California Centennial Commission.

The story of this doll, enshrined at the Sutter's Fort Historical Museum, Sacramento, is the chronicle of the Donner Party that was decimated in 1846 while endeavoring to cross the Sierras into California.

In the covered wagon train of Captain George Donner heading for Sutter's Fort was James Franzier Reed, his wife and four children, among the latter being eight-

Mitchell Ranch Site Approved By Plan Board

Approval for a $100,000 airport was granted Wednesday by the County Planning Commission in the Campbell vicinity. An 88-acre site has been purchased from Wilbur Mitchell, Ralph Mitchell and A. M. Chrisman on Quito and McCoy roads. The land is part of the old Mitchell ranch.

Purchaser of record in the transaction is Howard Duncan of Los Gatos. In a statement to the Press on Wednesday night Mr. Duncan said that a group composed of Campbell, Saratoga and Los Gatos business men will comprise the financing organization. Corporation papers have been applied for and when final approval is received from state authorities in Sacramento actual development plans will be disclosed.

The site and intent meets all the requirements of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, other Federal government requirements and the County Master Plan for civic improvements. Mr. Duncan stated that work on the Class 2 Airport will commence with the ending of the summer season when all crops have been taken from the land. About $100,000 is to be expended on the project at this time. This figure includes the cost of the land, construction of a runway 2800 feet by 500 feet and a ten- (Continued on page 6)

Latimer, Winchester To Be Improved; Funds Available From Gasoline Taxes

An appropriation for the resurfacing of Winchester Road (Santa Clara-Los Gatos Highway) has been included in the preliminary budget adopted by the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors, County Road Superintendent Robert B. Chandler announced this week. Also included is an appropriation for improvement of Latimer avenue.

The Winchester Road project amounts to $56,000 of the appropriation for major street work in Supervisorial District No. 4. According to Chandler, the plans call for the complete resurfacing of the roadbed with material similar to that used on Central avenue, now completed, although Winchester Road has no curbs, gutters and sidewalks.

Local Man Chosen Chef de Gare of Legion's 40 and 8

Forrest Reese, of White Oaks avenue, Campbell, was installed Monday night as Chef de Gare of Santa Clara County Voiture 365, of the Societe des 40 hommes et 8 cheveaux. The organization is the fun department of the American Legion and is made up mostly of World War I veterans whose memories of the mode of travel in vogue in France during the first world war have not diminished with the years. Customary troop movements were not of the Cook's Tour variety. The idea was to crowd 40 men and eight horses into one of the diminutive French box cars, hence the name of the organization was derived.

The installation was held at a club on El Camino Real called the Barber Shoppers. Entertainment was provided by a quartet of gents done up in the garb of the gay nineties, and towards the end of the festivities, two charming and talented girl dancers performed for the edification of the boys.

Among Campbell Legionnaires who attended to honor their comrade were the following: Jim Peer, Jim Brand, John Crawford, Gus Robillard, Rex Kaber, Bernard Barrett, Al Carter, Ed Lee, Wilbur Mitchell, Guy Smith and Nick Colombo.

Facelifting for Six Local Tennis Courts

Resurfacing of six tennis courts at the High School grounds will begin Monday, Aug. 23, and is due for completion Sept. 7.

Contract was awarded to the firm of Malott and Petersen, San Francisco.

The contract price as announced by Laurence Hill, district superintendent, is $2,310. The top coat will be "laycoid," the material used at Backesto Park in San Jose.

Hill previously had the Campbell courts inspected by a court expert from Berkeley who pronounced the foundation exceptionally good. He was especially impressed by the fact that the Campbell courts have a six-inch concrete border.

No play will be allowed between Aug. 23 and Sept. 7, thereafter players must wear genuine tennis shoes.

"And the orchardists persist in plowing right up to the edge of the pavement, sometimes narrowing the shoulders of the road," complains Chandler.

The new Winchester road pavement is due to be 22 feet wide, Chandler says. The present width is 20 feet. While the traffic burden carried by this thoroughfare calls for extra traffic lanes, the present right-of-way does not permit them. The present appropriation does not provide for acquisition of any additional property.

4-H, Future Farmers To Have Large Exhibits at Fair

A full week of entertainment is in store for visitors this year to the Santa Clara County Fair, September 13 to 19, inclusive. At the first major meeting of the executive committee of the fair held Friday in San Jose, it was decided to feature spectacular events each day and evening of the fair.

Betty Campbell, San Jose State College student, will be featured at the Hammond organ daily. Also, each afternoon there will be five vaudeville acts and thrill acts with fireworks and free dancing to a name band nightly.

In addition, there will be wandering troubadours, a Puppet Show, three clowns and the County Fair Farmer circling the grounds. A popular dance team will also be on hand to entertain fair visitors.

Quarter horse racing, a new feature this year, will be held on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons. In addition, (Continued on page 6)

Ask Health, Recreation Provisions for New County Charter at Public Hearing

Requests that the Board of Freeholders, preparing a Santa Clara County Charter for presentation on the November ballot, include mandatory provisions for a county recreation department were made at the board's second hearing Monday at the Court House.

The requests were made by several at the well-attended meeting when Dr. Bertha S. Mason of San Jose, chairman of the freeholders' health, welfare and recreation committee, reported it had recommended permissive provisions to provide a department to coordinate and encourage recreation activity in all parts of the county.

Dr. Dwight M. Bissell and Dr. W. Elwyn Turner, respective health officers for San Jose and the county, joined in a request that the charter itself provide for highest civil service qualifications for posts in a coordinated health-welfare department, rather than leaving qualifications to the appointing County Executive, as the freeholders' committee proposed. Similar high civil service qualifications for the welfare chief were (Continued on page 6)

Time To Plant Fall and Winter Gardens

By G. D. WORSWICK, Assistant Farm Advisor

If you want to grow your own vegetables this fall and winter, now is the time to plant. This reminder comes from G. D. Worswick, assistant farm advisor of the Agricultural Extension Service. He suggests location of the garden where it will receive at least six hours of sunshine during the day, and as far away as possible from hedges and shrubs to escape bird damage. Naturally, fertile soil and watering facilities are important prerequisites.

Among the vegetables that can be planted during the next few weeks are beets, carrots, leaf or head lettuce, green onions, radishes, turnips, sprouting broccoli, cabbage and cauliflower. The last three usually are grown from transplants, and the transplanting is best done in the evening.

Where seeds are used, the soil around them must be kept moist until plants appear. After that, frequent light watering should gradually change to heavy infrequent ones. Thinning to proper distances should start when most plants are two inches in height. Fall and winter gardens are not so much affected by diseases and insects but quick destruction of diseased plants and weeding is necessary to keep the garden in proper shape.

Annual Convention of Calif. 4-H Clubs

By GEORGE D. SHAMBROOK, Assistant Farm Advisor

Santa Clara County 4-H Club boys and girls are eagerly anticipating their 28th annual convention to be held on the Davis Campus of the College of Agriculture on September 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

Being a delegate to this convention is a privilege for any California 4-H club member. He or she must be sincerely interested in club work, over 12 years of age, and must have earned the honor of attending.

The four Diamond Stars, recently returned from the National Convention in Washington, D. C., will lead the activities this year.

Lyn McDonald, of Los Angeles, as the convention director; Stuart Rowe, of Solano County, as program chairman, and Muriel Jensen, of Shasta County, and Dale Gill, of Tulare County, as girls director and boys director, respectively.

Four and a Half Million for Relief

Direct payments for relief to the needy in Santa Clara County for 1947-48 totalled $4,450,667, 58 per cent more than the $2,814,254 paid out in the county for relief during 1945-46, the first postwar year, California Taxpayers' Association reported recently. Relief paid out in the county during 1946-47 amounted to $3,390,626.

St. Lucy's Church Is Scene of Mid-Summer Ceremony

At home in Campbell after a honeymoon at Santa Cruz and Los Angeles are Cpl. and Mrs. Marcus C. Reeves whose marriage took place in St. Lucy's Church recently.

Rev. Denis Kennelly officiated at the ceremony.

Vincent Mesi escorted his daughter down the aisle of the church which was decorated with pink and white gladioli and asters.

A white slipper satin gown fashioned with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline with seed pearl trim and a full skirt which swept into a train was the bride's choice. A crown of orange blossoms held her cathedral-length veil trimmed with wide floral lace in place and her bouquet was of carnations backed with fern and centered with an orchid.

Miss Josephine Mesi attended her sister as maid of honor in a pink taffeta frock with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a pink ruffled hat and carried pink and white asters.

The only bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Robertson who wore pale blue taffeta, a blue ruffled hat and carried blue and white asters.

Mrs. Mesi donned a light blue dress and navy accessories for her daughter's wedding while the bridegroom's mother was attired in black netted rayon with white accessories. Their flowers were red roses.

Eugene Ghione served as best man and Anthony Ciraulo seated the guests.

Opera Guild's Second Season To Open With Puccini's "Butterfly," Oct. 2

San Jose Opera Guild will present its second annual performance in Civic Auditorium Saturday evening, Oct. 2, and the opera chosen this year will be Puccini's beloved "Madam Butterfly." The production will be staged by the world-famous San Francisco Opera company and the stellar cast will include Licia Albanese, Charles Kullman as Lt. Pinkerton and Francesco Valentino as Consul Sharpless. Pietro Cimara, who conducted last season's brilliant performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto," will again direct members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra for the performance.

Guild members may secure tickets for the forthcoming performance at box office in Civic Auditorium. Tickets will go on general sale Sept. 7 and guild members are urged to pick up their tickets or reserve their seats some time before then in order to obtain choice locations.

The San Jose Opera Guild was organized in May, 1947, for the sole purpose of bringing the finest operatic productions available to San Jose. The guild also hopes to be instrumental eventually in securing a suitable opera house or civic theater not only for operatic performances but for musical and theatrical events as well.

The guild, a non-profit organization, is open to any woman interested in cultural development of Santa Clara County and may obtain membership in the group for $10. Although the local guild, which is affiliated with the Metropolitan Opera Guild of New York City and the San Francisco Opera Guild, is a woman's organization, many public-spirited and civic-minded men have demonstrated their interest and enthusiasm in the project by becoming $25, $50 and $75 sponsors or $100 guarantor members.

Checks should be made payable to the San Jose Opera Guild and sent to Mrs. Everett D. Myers, 1440 Calaveras avenue, San Jose.

Young Hikers Look Forward to Second Jaunt Next Week

Fifty four Campbell youngsters attended a nature hike Thursday under the direction of Vinson Brown, writer-naturalist. Traveling by school bus to arch rock just north of Santa Cruz, the group hiked a mile up the rocky coast to a secluded spot to conduct their search for sea life oddities.

Brown divided the group into competing units of Tigers, Owls, Eagles, Bears and Wolves. For each specimen of plant, animal or mineral brought in the group received a point, and if it could be correctly named, two points. This brought competition to the fever pitch, and incidentally drove home a good deal of information. Winning groups, Tigers, Eagles and Bears, were awarded prizes of nature lore leaflets prepared by Brown. The group was enthusiastic about the whole thing and are looking forward to the next trip to Portola Park up on the Skyline. This next jaunt will be taken next Wednesday, Aug. 25, again an all day affair.

In the first of a series of home and home ball games involving Los Gatos, Cambrian, Campbell and Los Altos, on Tuesday the Campbell boys played the Los Gatos nine to a 13 to 13 tie after a six-inning game. The Campbell lineup of Vargas, Shumway, Hill, Kuykendall, Hoover, Eddleman, Gilpatrick, Hodges, Lunt, Buck, Plymale, Olmetti, Manzoni, Strong and Imrie, played a fine game considering it was their first hardball game of the year. Leading by a substantial margin until the fifth inning the Campbellites failed to give Pitcher Shumway the necessary support in the fifth frame and the Los Gatos rolled up six runs to tie the score.

The locals will engage the Los Altos team on the home diamond this Wednesday at 1:30, and on Thursday Cambrian will tangle with Los Gatos at the Campbell High School field at the same hour. Next week will find the Cambrian gang travelling to Los Gatos, Campbell going to Los Altos, and Los Gatos invading the local scene for the deciding game with the local lads.

All children of the area will participate in a field day this Friday afternoon, Aug. 20, at 1:30. Prizes will be awarded the various winners in all events. Highlights of the days activity will be the sack, three legged, and obstacle races, and designed to furnish lots of fun and entertainment is a bubble gum contest.

RETURN EAST

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Weaverling of Wichita, Kan., left Monday after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Clara Eagleston, 152 Railroad avenue. Mrs. Weaverling previously visited here two years ago and was greatly surprised this summer to see how Campbell has grown.

been allowed $5000, calling for comparatively minor improvements. Both appropriations, however, are in addition to the normal maintenance and repair work done by county road crews, as for example the extensive pavement patching work done on Winchester road this summer.

The time element is the greatest uncertainty in the present instance. Both these projects were included in the budget for the past year, but the work was not done and the money remained unexpended. Chandler explains this as due to congested conditions in his office.

"The flood of new subdivisions has kept my staff so busy, we haven't been able to move up on the projects as we should like to have done," he said. "I have vacancies on my staff of civil engineers which I am unable to fill through the channels prescribed by Civil Service regulations."

Chandler says that the Winchester and Latimer projects will be done just as soon as possible, but declined to make any predictions as to dates. What the subsequent variations in prices for such work may do to the projects is another matter of conjecture.

The money for the proposed improvements comes from the County's share of the state gasoline tax allocations. If the money is not spent, it continues to accumulate.

The Winchester and Latimer projects are the only ones in the new County budget which apply to the immediate area of Campbell, according to Chandler. There are a number of projects for the Burbank district and a major item for Meridian road.

Ask Health

urgued by Donald Clark, Community Chest executive.

Dr. Mason's committee proposed that all county preventive and curative medical activity be coordinated under a Director of Health, who in turn would appoint a health officer, and administrators for the county hospital, the welfare department, and related institutions such as the almshouse. The health director would be appointed by the County Executive.

In place of a large welfare commission reappointed year after year, Dr. Mason suggested a smaller commission of seven with rotating appointments to inject continually fresh interest and viewpoints into this largest of county departments. Dr. Mason cited several instances wherein the coordination of all these activities would result in savings and in better balanced health and welfare services.

Received with general approval by the meeting was the report of the freeholders' finance committee, by Chairman A. J. Price of Saratoga, which recommended that the County Auditor be appointed by the County Executive, with controller's powers to audit all county books and coordinate and standardize records and bookkeeping. At present the county's $21,000,000 annual business is conducted without interim audits and with no one given power to call such audits, even if it were possible to assemble the assorted methods of handling monies in the various independently elected departments, Price pointed out.

He recommended that preparation of the county budget be the responsibility of the County Executive, who could require the various department heads, appointed by himself, to submit their estimated budget proposals in time for proper study and compilation.

The finance committee also recommended a separate purchasing department be established to do all county purchasing for the county under standardized and uniform methods set up by a purchasing code. This operation would be under direction of the county purchasing officer, also appointed by the County Executive.

Price emphasized, in an answer to a question from Assemblyman Robert C. Kirkwood of Saratoga, that the charter would concern itself with the new structure of county government, and that administrative details would be developed in operating codes developed by the Board of Supervisors and the County Executive—a point also emphasized by Dr. Mason.

They pointed out that by limiting the charter to fundamental structure, amplified by operating codes readily remodeled to fit growing needs, it would be more flexible. They doubted the necessity of a suggestion offered by Dr. Claude N. Settles, head of political science at the San Jose State College, that the charter contain a provision for automatic revision every 10 years, pointing out that the charter could be amended at any time by a majority vote of the county electorate.

Because the freeholders and their committees are meeting daily at present to shape up the accepted charter section before the September 7 deadline, Chairman Fred A. Wickett announced that public hearings would be deferred for a time.

pects, slopes and many other details. The approval means the approbation of experts on safety and all other factors concerning the dam, spoke Jones.

The dam will have a spillway large enough to cope with greater Los Gatos area run-off floods than have ever occurred, and will be as large as that of the Coyote dam with its 200 square miles of watershed area, said Jones. Forty miles of water will drain into Lexington dam. There will be three feet of base for every foot of height.

The bond issue for construction of the dam was approved last October, and at the same time, $2,475,000 was appropriated for relocation of the two-mile stretch of highway.

Are you applauding the St. Louis woman who sent back that $9000 worth of radio prizes?

Mrs. Anna Weingart said she was worn out from telephone calls, publicity seeks, peddlers and even the delivery men who cart the prizes into her home.

She said the day a piano, outboard motor, camera and luggage set arrived all at once she gave up and ordered the truckers to take it back.

Mrs. Weingart sent a telegram to the program sponsors but they informed her they were sending the gifts anyway. A second telegram convinced them she meant business.

The prizes included a dog and a year's supply of dog food, two vacation trips, a five-year supply of makeup, and dancing lessons among other things.

Mrs. Weingart said she and her husband had been looking forward to the vacation trips, one of which was to Maine and the other to Florida.

"It'll be vacation enough now just to have the telephone stop ringing," she said.

It's way too early to herald her bravery as the beginning of a new trend, but not too soon to take note that sponsors of soap opera have quietly adopted a definite sale policy on their soap prices. In other words, they haven't really reduced the price of soap—but you can buy one brand after another on sale—two for the price of one, or buy one box at the "regular price" and get an extra one for a nickel. Whatever they call it, it's the first time in years that washing out a tubful of laundry hasn't been a downright luxury! I'm for it.

Present plans are to build a hangar and facilities for the use of the approximately 56 planes now operated in the vicinity. No transport planes will be operated from the field, since the new San Jose City Airport will handle all the larger commercial needs of the valley.

Final approval must be had from the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors. No date has been set as yet for a hearing before this board but it is expected to be in the immediate future. Little further opposition is expected since all requirements have been met and the general consensus is that there is a need for the new field.

Fruit Prices Decline

By EDWARD J. BOWLES
Assistant Farm Advisor

Fruit prices have declined 30 per cent since the war while all other farm product prices are roughly 50 per cent higher. Thus,
Assistant Farm Advisor Edward
J. Bowles, summarizes a survey by George B. Alcorn, specialist in marketing for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Fruit prices and all farm product prices since 1910 have moved up or down together until 1946.
In that year, fruit prices began their decline, while other farm products continued to rise.

Fruit is the only major group of farm products which is lower-priced now than during the war.
One reason for this is the lack of foreign demand for fruit, while other farm products are high because of the unusual postwar foreign demand for food.

Bowles points out that in the prewar period fruit was the most important food export item, except in 1937 and 1948 when exceeded by grain. There were only two agricultural export items that were larger than fruit—cotton and tobacco. In the period 1920-40 fruit exports were two and one-half to three times as large as they were before the 1920's. However, World War II left European countries without purchasing power to buy fruits and exports since the war has been mainly subsidized relief shipments.

It's Poison for Poison Oak!

Poison oak may be killed by the use of 2,4-D as a spray, but it should not be tried when the leaves are hard and dry in midsummer. This is the advice of W.
A. Miller of the botany division of the University of California College of Agriculture, given in response to numerous requests for a method of controlling the shrub.

When 2,4-D is applied in the spring, just after the leaves appear and before blossoming, it is almost certain to kill the plant.
However, when used in the summer, in the dry, hot valleys, its effectiveness is decreased and it may be necessary to repeat the spray the following year. In the cooler, foggy districts along the coast, good results usually are obtained at any time in spring or summer.

However brilliant an action, it should not be esteemed great unless the result of a great and good motive.—Rocheffoucauld.

of quartz grains.

One ten-thousandth of a second—faster than the flick of a fly's wing—was the exposure time for this shot made by Chester

Gloves bouts at Chicago Stadium. Stroboscopic lights permitted very fast exposure. Gabrysiak, one of the country's top sports photographers, started as a copy boy in 1926.

the San Jose Dons Motorcycle Club and participates in hill climbing. He attended a hill climb given a trophy as the fastest rider of both the 80-inch and 45-inch novice classes.

Social Security Information Given

"Minimum qualifications must be met before a person is eligible for social security retirement payments," John J. Cassidy, manager of the San Jose Social Security Office, said today, adding, "Mere possession of a social security card at age 65 is not enough."

"While 10 full years of work is enough to qualify anybody, older men and women can draw social security retirement payments even if they worked less than 10 years," Cassidy continued. "The exact length of time depends on the worker's age. It may be as little as one and one-half years if the worker was 65 before July 1, 1940. Ten years of work is required only for those who will not be 65 until 1957 or later. Work done after age 65 counts toward meeting these requirements."

"These qualifications may vary according to the date of birth of the worker," Cassidy explained.
"If you are interested in knowing what your minimum requirements are, be sure to contact the social security representative at 28 North First Street, San Jose."

Though a good motive cannot sanctify a bad action, a bad motive will always vitiate a good action.—William Jay.

Let the motive be in the deed and not in the event. Be not one whose motive for action is the hope of reward.—Kreeshna.

IOOF, Moorpark Lead Twilight Ball In Sandlot League

Latest reports from the Twilight League, now well into its second round of play, show the Odd Fellow and Moorpark teams way out in front.

Last Wednesday Rotary fell victim to the rejuvenated Odd Fellows squad; Thursday, in a well balanced game Moorpark, runners-up in the first round, took the measure of the San Tomas outfit to the tune of 9 to 6.

Opening games this week found the Legion and Moorpark battling to a 6 to 6 tie after six innings, and then having to call the game because of darkness. The Legion has a rare find in the person of Jim Pharis who pitched a fine game against the Moorpark nine.
This game will necessarily have to be replayed. On Tuesday the Kiwanis, due to illness and other reasons, were forced to forfeit a game to the Odd Fellows.

Complete standings are as follows up to and including Tuesday night games:

	W	L
Odd Fellows	2	0
Moorpark	2	0
Methodist Church	1	0
American Legion	1	1
Cambrian	1	1
Kiwanis	1	2
San Tomas	0	2
Rotary	0	2

All Twilight League players are urged to report for infield practice at 6:15 to insure getting the games underway in time so that it is not necessary to call them because of darkness.

Offer $100 for Lion Seen Near Carmel

Deer hunters in Monterey County's Carmel Valley this season may have an opportunity to make an "easy" one hundred dollars, according to Assistant Fish and Game Warden James Wade.

The hundred dollars is the total bounty which will be paid for the killing of a male mountain lion seen in the Valley last week. The State of California pays a bounty of $50 for each male lion killed, while a similar reward is provided by the Monterey County Cattle-man's Association.

This tiny doll, survivor of the ill-fated Donner Party that suffered much tragedy immigrating into California a century ago, will be one of the treasures to tour the state in the Historical Caravan now being assembled by the California Centennials Commission. It is shown being admired by seven-year-old Judith Heiner of San Francisco.

Doll That Survived

with one of his wagons. This necessitated disposing of many possessions and limiting themselves to bare essentials.

The more worthwhile and durable items were cached in a hole; lesser objects and perishables were piled onto the ground. The children were told to abandon their toys.

Just before resuming their trek with the wagon train, Patty spied the smallest of her toys, a carved wooden doll, about four inches high, lying on the ground. The child recovered it and, from a discarded piece of white muslin, a strand of pink tape and some black thread, fashioned a little dress for her only toy. Fearing parental disfavor, the girl hid her doll within the lining of her dress. Calamity befell the Donner Party in October when an early and unusually violent snowstorm trapped the group on the east slope of the Sierra Nevada. Here occurred a time of anguish and travail that later was recounted the world over. There was no adequate shelter; food ran out. Half of the original number of more than 80 emigrants died of hunger and exposure; some while awaiting rescue, the others in trying to break through the mountains.

Throughout the ordeal, Patty had her tiny doll. As each miserable day progressed, she would cherish the small wooden image telling it her childish observations and, seemingly, drawing an indescribable comfort from the undiscovered presence of her little companion.

Fate was merciful to the Reed family for, in the Spring of 1847, they, along with the other survivors, were rescued and taken to their destination.

There was a happy ending to the story of this doll. Her mistress lived for many years in which she saw the dreams of her fellow pioneers come true. Patty was married, became Mrs. Frank Lewis

Bird Now Singing 'Tweet Home'

Back home after an exciting "night out," a tiny, frightened canary snuggled down into its cage at Campbell Floral Shop Tuesday and headed straight for the song seed and cuttle bone.

The birdie flew the coop Monday afternoon as Tommy Blackmun, owner, removed a drinking cup from the cage. It flew to an inaccessible perch on the balcony of the apartment building at 219 E. Campbell avenue, and then soared away.

—But not far. Tuesday morning Decker's Market—three doors away from the flower shop—reported a small canary had added itself to their inventory. She arrived on a box of vegetables delivered late Monday and spent the night in a cage at the grocery store.

Identified by Blackmun as the missing songster, the adventurer happily returned to its own perch and rations.

duction the profit margin may be considerably narrowed. World demand has not kept pace with the crop, and this condition coupled with the uncertain labor situation has many growers concerned.

and had children who gathered many an evening in her Santa Cruz home to listen to the story of the emigrant doll. Many historians have recorded this story in their accounts of the ill-fated Donner Party.

Mrs. Lewis died in 1923. It was her wish that "Dolly," as she lovingly called her pioneer companion, be given a permanent home at Sutter's Fort Historical Museum.

Another adventure for the ageless doll will begin soon when she joins other treasured moments that document the heritage of California in a modern caravan which will tour the state during its centennial observance.

Boy Scout Council Elects on Monday

The annual business meeting and election of council officers of the Santa Clara County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, Aug. 23.

The meeting will be held in Dunne Hall, San Jose Civic Auditorium. This is a most important meeting with the 1948-49 board members and council officers to be elected and the Fall and Winter activities discussed. The operating committee chairmen will report on their activities and district chairmen will give informal reports.

Navy Enlistees Not Draftable

It is not planned to draft a single man into the United States Navy because the wearers of Navy Blue in peacetime have always been proud volunteers in the service of their country. Selection of the navy for military service must be made before being called by the draft. "Make the Navy your choice today," says N. S. Hamlin, EMC-USN, recruiter, "by enlisting for three years. See your local U. S. Navy recruiter at the Post Office Building, Room 227, San Jose."

Maderis vs. Hubert

decided to settle the issue by a trial in which most of the members will be jurymen or witnesses. Forrest Reese was appointed judge, although the complainant, Maderis objects to the choice by claiming bias. Norman Stoner, an attorney in fact as well as in fiction has been retained by the defense. Harry Blanchard is attorney for Maderis. He claims his client has suffered great and grievous mental suffering, nervous breakdown and palpitations as a result of the humiliation and stigma attached to losing his insignia. Maderis is suing for such relief and redress as the court will allow him.

A jury of 12 was chosen last Monday. Dobie Jeffers was named court clerk. All of the jurymen were fined by Judge Reese when they stated that they would, and in some cases, would not, render a just verdict. Trial will be resumed next Monday. Testimony of a startling nature is expected to be disclosed at the next session of court. Attorney Stoner claims to have an ace up his sleeve in a surprise witness.

Visiting Rotarians, one from Kansas, and guests of members, thoroughly enjoyed the proceedings, which were a departure from the usual program.
